The diagram illustrates the layout for a decal. It features three nested rectangles: an innermost green rectangle representing the finished size (1.5" x 3.5"), a middle red rectangle representing the cut line (1.75" x 3.75"), and an outermost blue rectangle representing the end of bleed (2.0" x 4.0"). Three horizontal double-headed arrows are positioned below the rectangles to indicate their widths: a green arrow for the green rectangle, a red arrow for the red rectangle, and a blue arrow for the blue rectangle. The text labels are placed above each corresponding arrow.
